Catechesis That Impacts the Public Square

Archbishop Charles J. Chaput, a member of the Order of Friars Minor Capuchin, St. Augustine Province, was ordained to the priesthood on August 1970. Archbishop Chaput served in teaching and formation roles; he has served as executive secretary and director of communications for his Capuchin Province and as a pastor. He was ordained Bishop of Rapid City, South Dakota, in July 1988 and Pope John Paul II appointed him Archbishop of Denver in February 1997.

Looking for the New Faithful

*A graduate of Marquette University, Colleen Campbell traveled the country researching and writing about a little-noticed trend that had attracted her attention: The appeal of traditional religion and morality among a growing number of young Americans. The result of her research was a book published to strong sales and critical acclaim, The New Faithful: Why Young Adults Are Embracing Christian Orthodoxy (Loyola Press, 2002). The New Faithful has been featured in nearly 100 magazines and newspapers.*
